SEVEN LONG YEARS

And Still No Post Box Available

This is a sad, sad story! And it concerns a charming Sidney lady.

She has postal problems—but they are improving. The skies are definitely brighter. Some day the sun may shine again.

Patience is considered to be a virtue. Accordingly the heroine of this little story is most virtuous.

Seven long years ago the lady, who receives her mail from the general delivery wicket of Sidney postoffice, applied courteously for the rental of a post box. That was away back in 1948. She informs The Review that she was told, with equal courtesy, that no boxes were available.

"The man at the wicket stated that not only was none available but that the waiting list of applicants was very, very long," she told The Review. "He reported that the list was so long that it would be folly even to place my name on the end of the list. So I have tried to be patient but all through the years I've longed for a post box of my own."

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL

Recently the lady noted in The Review that there was every likelihood of the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce being allotted a post box. Again her soul filled with hope, she again approached the wicket and courteously requested that a box be allotted to her. This time she made progress.

"I was told on my recent application that no box, unfortunately, is yet available. But this time they placed my name on the end of the long list of applicants. I am cheered by the progress I have made in seven years," she concluded without malice.

HON. ALCIDÉ CÔTÉ

Some Sidney residents, however, feel that the service given this district by Canada's postmaster general is not quite good enough. Had the lady secured the post box after waiting seven years, a happy ending could have been written to the story. But when she still hasn't secured it, the file can hardly be closed. Only Hon. Alcide Côté knows the answer to the query: "When will an adequate supply of boxes be allotted to Sidney post-office?"

Meanwhile The Review is informed that the Chamber of Commerce has been formally refused a post box because none is available.

BIG JOB AT CANOE COVE

A dredge of Mackenzie Barge Co. of Vancouver is working at Canoe Cove Shipyards. A new area for the accommodation of yachts is being created by the dredging operation. It is expected that the new area will accommodate an additional 100 vessels. Yacht accommodation will thus be nearly doubled.

New C.P.R. Train Is Admired By Traveller

(By E.E.)

Much has been said recently of the new Canadian Pacific train, "The Canadian", and having had the opportunity of travelling on this new all-stainless steel streamliner, recently, I found it has everything for the comfort of the traveller.

It is smooth riding with cushioned stops and starts. All space is reserved from the drawing rooms to the coaches. The interior decorations are very pleasing to the eye being done in soft pastel shades as harmonious as your own home decor. In the main lounge comfortable chairs are provided, and picture windows for unobstructed view. If the services of the porter are required, a button is pressed and a chime summons him. Soft music is played throughout the day. The scenic dome car was much in demand, which gives you all round view, by glare-proof picture windows.

A first class dining car and coffee shop are at your service with attractively and economically arranged meals. Much more could be said for this fast new train but these are a few of the highlights. Should you be planning a holiday, take "The Canadian", a trip in comfort long to be remembered.

There were 10 members present. New officers appointed were: president, Mrs. W. Salmon; vice-president, Mrs. W. Deacon; treasurer, Mrs. D. Vigurs; secretary, Mrs. R. Aitken.

By a sincere vote of thanks the members showed their appreciation of the excellent work done by the retiring officers, president, Mrs. Gilman; secretary, Mrs. W. Wilks; treasurer, Mrs. W. Salmon.

The school picnic was sponsored by the P.T.A. on June 24. Prizes were given by the P.T.A., and presented by the teacher, Miss Laidman, to the outstanding senior pupil, Alan Salmon; outstanding junior, Tracey Wilks. ## FAST WORK AT GALIANO HOME

Arriving by plane from Vancouver at 7 a.m. on Saturday, June 25, Very Rev. Northcote Burke, with his son, Philip, and four volunteers from his congregation at Christ Church, started to build a summer camp on the Deane property on Sturges Bay.

By 7:30 p.m., when they returned by plane to Vancouver, the 16 ft. by 20 ft. building was well on the way to completion.

J. J. WHITE RETURNS FROM MAINLAND

Mrs. Lorna McKenzie and her father, J. J. White, have returned from a holiday in Vancouver. They were accompanied by the former's daughter, Mrs. T. B. Toye and family.

No Start Yet Made on Road At Brentwood

No work has been commenced on the construction of Slugetts Road in Central Saanich. The council recently approved the construction of a section of the road to be charged to general revenue.

Reeve H. R. Brown opposed the work and is circulating a petition through the municipality asking ratepayers to support a referendum on the method by which new road construction is to be paid for.

RED SHIELD RAISES NEAR $1,000 HERE

During the recent Red Shield appeal conducted by the Salvation Army, the sum of $757.15 was raised in the North Saanich area, reports D. A. Smith of Sidney, who acted as chairman of the campaign in this area. Grand total realized in the Victoria and district appeal was $32,763.13.

In commenting on the campaign Mr. Smith said: "The total for our area is poor when compared with what is taken out for the Red Cross and the Community Chest, but on the other hand, the Salvation Army are most gratified knowing that much new ground has been broken. Our falling off is, of course, due to the very difficult time I had producing canvassers and was not able to obtain a chairman for the Deep Cove area which is a grand spot for charity."

Mr. Smith pointed out that some residents have always given more than the required 10 cents for copies of the War Cry distributed each Christmas and Easter. Some of them felt, accordingly, that they had already made a contribution to the recent appeal. The captain made it clear, however, that the Red Shield Campaign is entirely separate from the fund raised through the sale of the War Cry.

GULF ISLANDS CHANGE HANDS

Craddock and Co., real estate brokers of South Pender Island and Vancouver, have informed The Review of the recent sales of a number of the Canadian Gulf Islands.

Donville Island, previously owned by Jas. A. Fitzpatrick, world renowned travelogue lecturer, has been sold by the brokers to Arthur H. Geison and Allen B. Roberts, of Victoria.

Ronald Jackson, son of the late M. B. Jackson, B.C. one time member of the B.C. legislature for the Gulf Islands, has sold Sheep Island to Mrs. B. M. Scarrow, of Vernon, B.C.

Mrs. Pilkington, widow of the late city controller for Vancouver, has sold Boho Island to Clifford Gillespie, of Vancouver.

Mr. Craddock reports that Shelter Island and Chads Island have changed hands recently as well.

GARDENERS ARE PREPARED FOR ANNUAL CONTEST

Brentwood gardeners are carefully tending their gardens as the entry date for the garden competition sponsored annually by the Brentwood Waterworks District draws closer.

There are three classes open to contestants and a cup will be presented in each class. Entries must be submitted to the office of the secretary-treasurer, Ernest Lee, by July 18. Judging will take place during the months of July and August and prizes will be presented in the spring of 1956, to be held by the winners for one year.

The three classes are the best all round garden; the best flower and shrub display and the best lawn, irrespective of size.

The contest is appropriately entitled: "Make Brentwood Beautiful."

ISLAND VISITORS

Friday Marks Opening Of Race Season Here

—At Sandown Park

Sidney will take a prominent position on the entertainment map during the holiday week-end. Friday will see the annual Sidney Day festivities which will open during the morning with the parade from St. Paul's church to the Memorial Park in addition to the opening of Sandown Park in the afternoon. Co-incidentally with the afternoon's celebrations at the park will be the opening of the first race meeting in North Saanich for many years. It will be the introduction to North Saanich of harness racing, a sport which has gained tremendous support across the Dominion and is widely followed in the United States.

The race meet will commence at 2:30 p.m., when horses with an international reputation will be fielded.

The harness meet will include two types of racing. Trotting and pacing are both carried out in the same manner. The horse draws a rubber-tired, ball-bearing sulky in which the driver is seated. A trotting horse moves with a diagonal gait. He moves his left forefoot and right hindfoot simultaneously. In pacing the horse moves both right legs and both left legs together. Both types of running will be featured at Sandown Park on Friday and throughout next week.

Preparations for the meet are now in hand. Cars will enter the track directly from Patricia Bay Highway and will park in the vicinity of the course. Access roads at present under construction will be used for later meets at the track.

Archbishop Officiates

Brilliant Ceremony of Consecration at Galiano

Colorful ceremony of consecration was observed at Galiano on Wednesday afternoon, June 22, when the Archbishop of Columbia, Rt. Rev. Harold Sexton, attended at the Church of St. Margaret of Scotland.

The Archbishop arrived from Victoria accompanied by his lay secretary, W. G. Hamilton and was met at Ganges by Ven. Archdeacon G. H. Holmes and the Rev. Peter Horsfield of Alberni, former vicar of the Gulf Islands parish and prime mover in the building of the Island church.

The ceremony took place at 1:30 p.m., when the altar was dressed with a white brocade frontal and white flowers.

During the service the church was packed. The Archbishop was assisted by Archdeacon Holmes, the Rev. Horsfield and the Rev. B. H. L. Dunne, who served as the Archbishop's chaplain and carried the official staff.

Upon his arrival at the church door the Archbishop knocked with his staff, when the door was opened by the two churchwardens, William Bond and E. J. Bambrick.

Triumvirate Of Royalty At Sidney Day

Two queens and representatives of a third will take their place in the Sidney Day Parade on Friday. They will be Queen Barbara and her carriage, of Sidney; Queen Elaine Acheson and her princesses who will come from Milford, and the royal princesses from Victoria who will take the place of their queen during her absence in the east, contesting the Dominion title.

On Friday and Saturday, July 1 and 2, the meet will commence at 2:30 p.m. During the week, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, July 4, 6 and 8, horses will come to the post at 5 p.m. Again on Saturday, July 9, the last day of the meet, the schedule will commence at 2:30 p.m.

Grandstand, seating 1,560, has already been constructed.

Record traffic into Sidney area is anticipated during the coming week-end.

SIDNEY MAN GRADUATES WITH MASTER'S DEGREE

Son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bryn-Jones, well known retired residents of All Bay Road, Sidney, J. David Bryn-Jones, completed his post-graduate work at Harvard University this spring, winning the degree of Master of Business Accounting. His course at Harvard has taken two years.

The 23-year-old student was born in South America where his father was an executive of the Shell Oil Co. He came here with his parents several years ago and continued his studies at University School and Victoria College in Victoria. He graduated from the University of British Columbia with the degree of Bachelor of Commerce.

At present the young man is touring Europe and will return to Canada in August where he will be associated with the Proctor and Gamble Co. in Toronto.

Barbara Michell To Be Crowned on Friday

Barbara Michell will be crowned queen when the Sidney Day parade arrives at the Memorial Park to set into action the program scheduled for the afternoon. The successful candidate in the queen contest was announced on Monday evening when the sponsors, H.M.S. Endeavour Chapter, I.O.E.E., counted ballots. Supporting Queen Barbara will be Princesses Eileen Gardner and Peggy Whipple.

Winner of the contest will be supported by her princesses at the crowning of the queen in the Memorial Park on Beacon Ave., at 1 p.m. This will be the signal for the opening of the annual Sidney Day festivities.

The queen was chosen on Monday evening when the contest closed with a counting of ballots by H.M.S. Endeavour Chapter, I.O.E.E., which group organized the entire contest.

The coronation ceremony will conclude the opening phase of the celebrations. It will take place after the parade has entered the park and awards have been made. The parade will assemble at 10:30 a.m. and will be judged at 11 a.m., before moving off. They will travel by way of Mount Baker, Third, Sidney, Second, Beacon, Fifth and Oakland. It will then enter the park by the rear entrance.

The parade is scheduled to move off at 12 noon. At Sidney Cold Storage the juvenile entries, consisting of decorated bicycles and tricycles will join the parade.

The event of the afternoon will be the saddle horse gymnastics staged by Colwood Trail Riders. It will include barrel racing, balloon bursting and pole bending.

During the afternoon the Royal Canadian Navy will stage an air show over the field. Motorcycle team from Victoria will also give a display. Other attractions will include Chinese drill team, a tug-of-war between firemen of the Sidney and North Saanich Volunteer Fire

BARBARA MICHELL

Midway will be provided by Sidney Rotary Club and other local organizations. Refreshments will be served throughout the day.

In charge of arrangements for the day is the North Saanich War Memorial Park Society. The Sidney and North Saanich Community Hall Association is closely linked with the society in the organization of the events. Proceeds will be devoted to the erection of a community hall in the Sidney area.

RAINED OUT

Baseball was rained out last Sunday at Sidney's Memorial Park. Legionnaires will play their next game on Sunday, when they will meet Victoria's Page the Cleaner team in a double-header.

ONE OF 36 CHILDREN ABOARD NORMAN MORISON

Historic Voyage Around Cape Brought Pioneer Girl Here

MARGARET DYER, a native of Haddington, in Scotland, was born in 1841, and upon the death of her father she had lived with her grandparents for a time. Later, her mother remarried and became Mrs. Duncan Laidlaw. Margaret was born in the year 1841, and her parents were the first of her name to come out to the new colony aboard the Norman Morison. Laidlaw was among the laborers forming the party of Kenneth Mackenzie. It might be noted today that the term, laborer, was more general in its meaning at this time. The vast majority of immigrants were artisans and possessed some skill in various directions. Nevertheless, they were absorbed under the general term of laborers or day-laborers from the point of view of the colony.

For five long weary months the party lived on board the tiny craft, and during that time they were subjected to many hardships. The sea was rough and the food was scanty. But they were determined to reach their destination. They had booked passage by sea in order to reach their ship in Greenock they had arranged passage by roundabout means to Scotland. At the last moment it was announced that the ship would not sail. Mr. and Mrs. Nightingale then arranged passage on the inaugural flight, east-west, of the C.P.A. polar service from Amsterdam to Vancouver. By the clock, after a perfectly smooth journey, the journey took 12 hours. In actual fact the time was longer, by virtue of the change in time between the two terminals.

While the Stock Exchange in London had been strong even before the election it was very much so afterwards, said Mr. Nightingale. The couple have made a number of visits to the Old Country since the Second World War.

SUCCUMBS IN CUMTARIO

Many Sidney friends learned with deep regret of the death at Clark-son, near Toronto, on Friday of Dr. David Wesley Allen, a former well known resident of Dean Park Road here. Dr. and Mrs. Allen left Sidney last year for Ontario, owing to the failing health of the former.

After extensive post-graduate work in Edinburgh, he opened a practice in Toronto. Afterwards he prac-ticed in New Brunswick for a short time prior to retiring and taking up residence in Sidney in 1950. He and Mrs. Allen were active in vari-ous facets of community life here.

Besides his widow at Clark-son, Dr. Allen is survived by three chil-dren: David of Toronto, Dr. James of New Brunswick, and Mrs. Ted (Beth) Chisholm of Port Credit, Ont. His youngest son, John, was killed in action with the R.C.A.F. during the Second Great War.

With new boys joining the ranks at the rate of approximately 1,500 a year, the Junior Forest Wardens have an active enrolment of 6,500. Since their founding a quarter of a century ago, they have trained more than 32,000 school-age boys in the principles of forest conservation and fire prevention.

Appointed only on the recommendation of their school teachers, these forest-conscious youths receive a three-year training course which offers 17 badges for proficiency in various branches of woodcraft, forestry and conservation. Summer camps on the lower mainland and Vancouver Island are a popular feature of the warden training program.

ANGLE PARKING

ONLY five years ago people from all over the Saanich Peninsula were able to drive to Sidney, the Peninsula's commercial centre, park their cars almost anywhere they wished and proceed to transact their business with ease. Today the situation is entirely different. So great has been the growth of population all over this area that a serious parking problem today exists in Sidney. It is high time that the village fathers grappled with the problem and laid it low.

The Review is convinced that a new system of angle parking should be ordered for both sides of Beacon Avenue at once. Moreover the angle parking system should be employed on one side of Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Streets all through the area designated as commercial by the village commission. The other side of the streets could be continued as parallel parking areas. This method of handling the car parking problem would make it convenient for three times as many residents of Central Saanich and North Saanich to come to Sidney and conduct their business than are able to today.

Sidney businessmen must realize that they would all starve to death were it not for the business they enjoy from residents of North Saanich and Central Saanich. Businessmen must be the first to support angle parking. They will prove to their customers in that way that their business is appreciated. And we're confident that if the proper steps are taken to institute angle parking, Sidney cash registers will jingle in the future as never before.

Some opponents of angle parking will maintain that the lineups for ferries to Anacortes during the summer months are an objection. It is no problem at all, however, to re-route the tourists into other sections of the commercial area. Tourist business is very greatly appreciated. But it is highly seasonal. We must never forget that our commercial mainstay is the daily visits of our immediate neighbors from North Saanich and Central Saanich. They come with their purses open all the year round. One reason that they come here is that in the past it has been easy to shop in Sidney. Let's all agree here and now to keep it that way.

The Review does not think the time is ripe yet for parking meters. They are a nuisance in many ways and have a tendency to reduce retail sales. Angle parking would seem to be the immediate answer to the problem which is becoming more serious every month.

EQUALIZATION OF ASSESSMENT

FULL affect of the provincial government's new policy of applying equalization of assessment to different properties throughout this district is now known to the owners of land and buildings. No one opposes the principle of assessment equalization because it tends to spread the growing tax burden fairly throughout unorganized territories and municipal areas.

In fairness to the manner in which the provincial government has put its new policies into effect, The Review must point out that no great outcry has been heard following the receipt of tax notices. Many property owners feared that a substantial tax hike was looming. We have heard no resounding protests against the scheme following the receipt of the annual tax notices.

The Review has heard of some properties whose taxes have been increased by as much as $100. In other cases the reduction has been as great as $100. Some residents report that their taxes increased by $6 or $7. Others find that their taxes have dropped by the same amount.

It may be fair to say that application of the government's assessment formula has resulted in some of the burden of taxation being partially lifted on highly improved residential properties and increased sharply on unimproved acreages, including agricultural lands. If closer examination reveals that this is a correct view, the government must devise some system of relieving the farmers from this additional burden. The path of agriculture on the Peninsula and on the Islands is already a rocky one. It should be smoothed, not worsened.

ONE SMALL ROCK

TRUSTEES of Saanich School District are preparing a by-law for presentation to the ratepayers of the school district. Two meetings have been called in a revolutionary system of inviting ratepayers to sit in on the board's deliberations and to learn first-hand of the problems facing trustees in the vexatious matter of preparing adequate school facilities for an ever-growing school population.

There are two factors which are not entirely clear to many residents and ratepayers, judging by the questions asked and comments made to The Review.

Firstly, many ratepayers appear to be under the impression that the last referendum was turned down only by ratepayers in the northern section of the school district. This was not so. Although ratepayers in that section of the school district were more uncompromisingly opposed to the last referendum, the ratepayers of neither Saanich Municipality, nor the remaining part of the school district gave the referendum the needed support.

The second feature is that although there is little doubt that academically speaking the school in use in the north, at Patricia Bay Airport, falls short of the standard sought or required for school purposes, it is nevertheless, a school in use at a low cost to the ratepayers. Thus, while it could well be that administratively and academically the school requires replacement, to do so would be psychologically poor judgment. Only time and the ratepayers of the school district can answer this poser. The trustees will be well-advised we are convinced, to give this aspect of the picture their very careful consideration before risking the referendum on one small rock.

Letters To The Editor

ANY QUESTIONS?

Editor, Review.

Sir:
Several Central Saanich taxpayers, including myself, are now so-

Why is Reeve Brown asking for a referendum on this matter of new road construction? Reeve Brown is the only member of our present council who was elected on a printed and published platform clearly stating that all new road construction shall be paid for by local improvement loan. He feels that his election on this platform clearly indicates the majority of the voters' wishes on this matter. Our council by the smallest majority of one, have disagreed with him and passed a resolution to spend $900 from general tax revenue to start building a new 1,300 foot section of Sluggert Road, an old gazetted road allowance. He feels this is an unwarranted action by the council in view of a mandate from the electors that new road construction be built by local improvement loan and that dangerous precedent will be created which will cause much trouble for this and future councils.

Have no other councils adopted a local improvement loan policy? Yes. Our neighbor, Saanich Municipality has now established a definite local improvement policy which is reasonably flexible regarding farm frontages and municipal trunk roads. We should profit from their experience and past mistakes in this direction and positively adopt a similar local improvement policy in Central Saanich to protect the taxpayers as a whole against the pressure group actions of a few. The voters should be enabled to express their views on this matter by a referendum before any new road construction is proceeded with particularly as the road in question is not a matter of municipal urgency.

Is the signer of the petition asking for a referendum indicating his support of any particular method of paying for new road construction? No. This petition is simply a formal request to council that a truly democratic vote be taken at the next council election. Every voter is perfectly free to record his vote, by secret ballot, and they have over five months to decide how they will vote. Nothing could be a fairer expression of democratic opinion.

Can new municipal trunk roads, which may become necessary to serve the majority of our taxpayers, be built from general revenue if we have a local improvement policy similar to Saanich? Yes. Decision in such cases is always up to council after adopting such a policy. When a general policy is established such trunk roads must be genuinely needed in the interests of the majority of the taxpayers. This provision should not be abused by any council to build a purely secondary and locally used road out of general revenue.

Is the part of Sluggert Road in question a portion of a municipal trunk road? No. It is a purely secondary municipal road and the section in question only serves one house. This road has two parallel built-up roads less than 600 feet on either side of it.

Reflections From the Past

10 YEARS AGO

G. Elmor John has been appointed assistant customs collector at Sidney. He has been associated with the customs service for the past 15 years.

Capt. and Mrs. I. Denroche, of Gossip Island, have been advised that their son, Denis, stationed with the R.C.A.F. in England, has been promoted to the rank of Flt.-Lieutenant.

Lt.-Col. Alan Chambers, D.S.O., and R. W. Mayhew, M.P., returned to Victoria on Sunday after a visit to Salt Spring Island, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Wilson, Barnsbury.

Flt. O. Joan Harvey, R.C.A.F., W.D., spent several days recently as the guest of Mrs. J. P. Hume, Galiano, prior to leaving for her home in Ardrossan, Alta.

Donald Sparling, Sidney realtor, was a visitor to Parksville last week.

Miss Joyce Aldridge, of Victoria, who is convalescing after a recent illness, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. W. Hammond, McTavish Road.

D. G. MacKenzie has sold a six-acre lot on St. Mary Lake to V. Case-Morris. G. H. Birkenhead, J. Montgomery and J. H. Birkenhead, all of Vancouver, have purchased a 19-acre property from D. S. Harris, at Ganges.

After more than 11 years' absence from the Island, Flt.-Lt. Raymond V. Best arrived home on Monday to spend leave with his parents, Capt. and Mrs. V. C. Best, Ganges. Flt.-Lt. Best was studying in London at the outbreak of war. He enlisted with the R.A.F. and has served in Egypt, Rhodesia and England.

20 YEARS AGO

Guests at the head table of the annual banquet of the Saanich Pioneer Society on Wednesday included Alex Thomson, A. MacKenzie, Mrs. T. Smith, Mr. Greaves, Dr. Tolmie, Rev. Thos. Keyworth, Mrs. W. Richardson, Magistrate and Mrs. George Jay, G. T. Mitchell, Mrs. A. MacKenzie, Mrs. L. Duval, Reeve and Mrs. W. Crouch, Mrs. J. Bell, Mrs. S. Brethour, Mrs. Greaves, N. Whitaker, M.L.A., and Alex McDonald, M.L.A.

Rainfall at Cole Bay during the month of May amounted to 0.30 inches, reports Gen. Gwynne, who maintains meteorological records. This compares to a 10-year average for the same period of 1.09 inches.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Foster at Mayne Island. The visitors are on their way to Sardinia from Victoria, where they have spent the past few weeks.

D. K. Crofton, won the Gulf

Islands golf championship recently at Ganges by defeating Dave Fyvie in the 18-hole final. P. Crofton won the first flight by defeating T. F. Speed and G. Shore beat N. Wilson in the second flight. W. P. Evans won the Case Morris cup and the Carmichael rose bowl went to Mrs. Charlesworth, who beat Miss D. Evans.

Mrs. W. Cotsford and her daughter, Deena, have returned home to Victoria after spending a few days at Fulford, where they were the guests of Mrs. Cotsford's mother, Mrs. M. Gyves.

30 YEARS AGO

Paul Scoones worked on the clearing of the hall site at Galiano on Saturday. More than $800 has been raised in a year and a half for the construction of a hall on the Island. Surely Galiano can lay claim to being progressive and worthy of a good boat service? The future of the Island depends on transportation.

A children's birthday party was given to Teddy Nichollet, East Saanich Road, on Saturday, in honor of his 12th birthday. Little guests present were Wesley Jones, Glenis Jones, Annie Boshier, Sidney Beswick, Iris Readings and Betty and Joan Thomas.

Proposal for Islands Ferry

Fred Robson, president of the Galiano Island Development Association, last week forwarded to The Review a copy of his organization's proposal for solving the transportation problems of the Gulf Islands.

Following is the text of Mr. Robson's circular:

The recent ceremony in connection with the opening of the Pender Island Bridge has emphasized some interesting points with respect to Gulf Islands transportation. Two statements made by the Minister and/or the Deputy Minister of Highways and Bridges stand out as a particular importance: (1) That when the residents of the Gulf Islands have decided what they need with respect to transportation, the government will do all in its power to meet their requirements, and, (2) That the cost of the South Pender Bridge was actually a small matter.

With these two thoughts in mind, we respectfully submit the following for the consideration of the residents of this district.

(1) It has been proven that, in an area of this type, a combination of bridges and ships provides the best means of transportation and a perfect example of this theory is the American Gulf Islands, which is a continuation of the Canadian Gulf Islands group.

(2) The connection required is between the Islands and Vancouver Island, and between the Islands and the mainland, and this must be a direct connection so as to reduce the mileage to a minimum and provide for residents being able to travel to and from either Victoria or Vancouver in one day, at the same time being able during that day, to transact business in either city during business hours.

(3) Such a service must be provided by the shortest possible route and every mile saved on that route is of vital importance to this end.

(4) To achieve this result, it is necessary to provide road transportation from the main steamship route to the extremities of the islands and the principle established in the building of the Pender Island Bridge should therefore be extended as follows: A single lane bridge or fill should be constructed between Mayne Island and Curlew Island, also, a single lane bridge between Curlew and Samuel Islands, and a single lane bridge between Samuel Island and Saturna Island. The vessel serving these

Warning Given To Telephone Hogs

(Buffalo Evening News)

Conviction of a Dutchess County housewife for refusing to give up a party telephone line to a rural fire warden attempting to report a fire provides the first test of a law which became effective last October. The result of the trial should have a salutary effect on others who abuse the right to use party lines.

It was a similar case in rural Western New York that inspired the legislation under which the housewife was convicted. But the case was by no means unique. In several instances, a telephone user had refused to surrender the line to persons attempting to report a fire. In both the Western New York case and the Dutchess County case which ended in the conviction of the housewife, farm buildings were destroyed because of the selfish action of the person hogging the line.

In signing the measure which was put to its first test this week, former Gov. Dewey commented that the law might pose enforcement problems, but "if it should save the life of one sick person or prevent a home from being burned to the ground, its enactment would be justified."

The first conviction under the law should serve as a warning to offenders of this type.

The Review's Book Review

"Young Sam Johnson", by James L. Clifford. MacGraw-Hill. 324 pp and notes. $6.95.

The student, during his adolescent years, is wont to look upon one reference as being a certain source of ribaldry for its enlargement on many subjects more commonly slurred over. The book is the famous dictionary of Samuel Johnson. That same student knows Johnson as a disfigured old man of less than hygienic habits and addicted to a drab style of dress.

F. G. Richards

Writer Clifford seeks to convince his readers that Dr. Johnson was once a young man. He ruthlessly tears out the London roots of the grammarian and replaces him in the Lichtfield setting which he had left many years before. Not unreasonably, the writer suggests that a man who pioneered a dictionary could not have failed to have learned something before the compilation of that work.

This is the young Sam Johnson, who was born to an elderly couple Tubercular, scrofulous and half-blind, the boy grew up in a household perpetually in a state of strained peace. Buffer between an intellectual father and a rather shallow mother, he learned an artificial morality at the latter's knee and a taste for literature, which was to serve him in better stead, at his father's side. His affection for the former was only equalled by his emotional revulsion for his father. In later years Johnson was to compare the son of an elderly man with the puppy teased and bewildered by a loving but thoughtless boy.

The literary tastes and wit of the youngster were his undoing in many cases. The writer notes that Johnson contended that the son of the poor rarely respects his parents. He was clearly distinguishing between the emotions of respect and affection. When his mother called him a young puppy he enquired whether she was aware of the term applied to a puppy's mother.

The appeal of the book is more for its reference to the domestic side of Johnson's lives than its contribution to the literary side of his career. The latter has not lacked biographers; the former has rarely seen them.

There is something pathetic to be learned of Johnson's life from these compilations. It seems that he left his parents' home, so bare of spontaneous affections to found his own home on the same foundations. Nevertheless, it is more than likely that had Johnson lived the life of the more normal man, tied to his wife by affection and contented within the confines of his home, he might well have left less to posterity. It is not through freedom from care and contentment that accomplishment is derived. The adversity he encountered must have materially contributed to his writings.

Wait For Manna

(Ottawa Journal)

The Archbishop of Canterbury, who doesn't smoke, has been given a gift of a bale of Rhodesian tobacco. Numerous jovial pipe-smoking curates wait for manna.

The book does not seek to make of Johnson a hero. He is not set up on the same pedestal as his statue in Lichtfield. His shortcomings are displayed as freely as his achievements. Pleasantly written, it is spiced with the witticisms and reminiscences of the inimitable Johnson it describes.

This is not a cheap book. It will only be purchased by those with a taste for the finer wines of early literature. Those connoisseurs will enjoy a full draft and count the fee well spent.—F.G.R.

MRS. JOHNSTON ELECTED FOR FURTHER TERM AS PRESIDENT OF SIDNEY SCHOOL P.T.A.

The annual meeting of the Sidney school P.T.A. was held at the school on Monday, June 20, with the president, Mrs. G. C. Johnston, in the chair.

Mrs. Johnston thanked the members who had helped at the refreshment booth on sports day.

Mrs. G. B. Sterne thanked the members for their co-operation at the festival. She also thanked the teachers for their part in the program.

The treasurer, Mrs. C. J. Douma, announced that $247 had been made at the festival.

Members of the executive then gave their annual reports. The reports gave interesting accounts of the progress made by the P.T.A. during the past year.

In her principal's report, Mrs. B.

Lassfolk gave a vote of thanks to Mrs. Sterne for her work as convener of the festival.

Mrs. Lassfolk explained that the school picnic would be held on the last school day, Thursday, June 23, and that report cards would be received on the previous day.

Sidney school did very well at sports day. The school won both district cups as well as the two relay cups.

HEALTH COUNCIL

In her report, Mrs. G. Brodie outlined the work done by the health council during the past year, when 42 children had been treated at the dental clinic with every child in need of treatment of some sort. Sixteen women in the district had received certificates in home nursing. T.B. X-rays had been given to about 700 people and all grade one and five-year-olds had received Salk anti-polio vaccine.

Pre-school children will be given medicals at the school in June 27, 28, from 1 to 4 p.m. Dr. A. N. Beatty will be in attendance.

During the year Sidney P.T.A. has had 74 paid-up members, it was reported by Mrs. J. Barclay.

The historian, Mrs. C. C. Inkster, gave an interesting account of the activities of the P.T.A. during the past year.

Mrs. S. Coward, tea convener, reported that tea had been served after every meeting and during the year they had been convened by members, teachers and the executive. Four dozen cups and saucers had been purchased with tea money and material has been purchased to make into tea cloths.

It was announced by the president that the P.T.A. would not be sponsoring swimming classes this year. It is hoped they will be able to do so next year.

Children wishing to enter bicycles in the parade on Sidney Day are to meet A. R. Alexander at the playground behind the Cold Storage building where they will assemble for the parade.

SCHOOL BUILDING

Mrs. J. Pearson then gave an interesting account of the meeting she had attended at Mount Newton high school. The meeting was a report on the school situation in District 63 by the Capital Regional Planning Board. School enrolment had shown an increase of 83 per cent since the district was formed, Mrs. Pearson reported. There are 1844 pupils attending schools in the district with an increase to 2,300 pupils expected in three years.

At the present time some schools are holding classes in converted church halls and army huts.

It was suggested by Planning Director Brahm Weisman that at least 15 new classrooms would be needed within three years.

Mrs. Johnston asked for volunteers to help with a P.T.A. float for Sidney Day. Anyone wishing to help should contact Mrs. Johnston or a member of the executive.

Presentations were made to three teachers who are leaving the staff of Sidney school. They are Mrs. I. Tyler, Mrs. H. Gibbs and J. Wickens.

A highlight at the final meeting of the Mount Newton P.T.A. held recently was the presentation to the school of beautifully finished blue velvet, fire-proofed stage curtains, trimmed with gold and set off with a full valance. The curtains are valued at $285.

President R. Nimmo made the formal presentation to Principal Arthur Voege who, in turn, called upon Trustee Mrs. H. J. MacDonald to accept them officially as school board property.

The June meeting given over to a display of student work and activities, was very well attended. Some 70 girls modelled dresses they had made during the year under their teacher, Mrs. D. S. Procter. The school choir and orchestra under the direction of L. Miller contributed items delighting all present.

Mrs. A. Butler, Mrs. C. Sluggett, Mrs. R. Tubman, Mr. and Mrs. H. Baude convoked activities for raising funds for the annual book awards and other school needs. This year the P.T.A. has provided 17 books for citizenship and proficiency.
